2 AIR FREIGHT

K-UNG is international Air Freight Specialists

Air freight is an essential component to any international logistics network and we can offer choice and flexibility over the type of services available to you when sending freight by air.

Air Freight Transport

If there is one thing we can all agree on, it's that air cargo should only be used for the right reasons. Often, there is no better option. But in many cases, the options just are not easily comparable or actionable.

As the manager of the world's most extensive supply chains, we have developed new ways to optimize the use of air cargo to reduce cost and carbon.

Give us your air cargo and we're likely to reduce it.

III. SERVICES

International Coverage

Our non-asset based operating style means that we don't have our own aircrafts; instead we work with a wide range of different airline carriers, getting the best available deal. Due to this operational scale we can plan according to your production schedules in order to improve inventory flow while still securing favourable rates. The wide spread transportation and distribution network helps the customer to simplify their supply chain and significantly reduce freight shipment.
